Gregor Deix (36) has taken over the direction of the Corporate Banking division of Erste Bank Oesterreich. He is replacing Walter Schmidt (57), who transferred to a different unit within the bank.

Erste Bank's Corporate Banking division serves domestic businesses with annual sales of between EUR 1.5 and EUR 30 million. Gregor Deix will be developing and implementing a business segment and risk strategy to further expand Erste Bank's good position in this market segment.

Deix studied business administration and has been with Erste Bank for ten years. The father of three has served corporate customers and key accounts in a variety of capacities throughout his career. His previous post at Erste Bank was director of corporate banking for Vienna and northern Lower Austria.
