

Euromoney awards Erste Bank and Sparkassen title of “best bank in Austria”

08.07.2011

The British financial magazine “Euromoney” awarded Erste Bank and Sparkassen the title of “best bank in Austria” at a ceremony last night in London. “News about the success of the savings bank model seems have spread in London too. “We are very pleased,” said Thomas Uher member of the Board of Erste Bank der oesterreichischen Sparkassen.

It was just in December that the savings bank group had been awarded the title “Bank of the Year 2010” by the international financial magazine “The Banker”. Apart from the distinction for Austria, Slovenska Sporitelna, the Slovak subsidiary of Erste Group was also named conferred the title of best bank in Slovakia.

The title of best bank is conferred by an expert jury within the framework of the so-called Awards of Excellence. Euromoney is one of the world’s leading special-interest magazines for banking, finance and capital market themes. The Euromoney Awards for Excellence for every important financial market and product area have been conferred to the most successful financial companies and to leading banks in more than 100 countries for the past 20 years.

More information on Euromoney is available at www.euromoney.com/Poll/3312/PollsAndAwards/Awards-for-Excellence.html

