 - b) Payee’s account number, exact name and address of the account owner;
- If the payment transaction is to be made to a European Economic Area country or to another country which uses the IBAN format for account numbers (for a list of countries using IBAN, please refer to the Bank’s website), the payee’s bank details must be specified as follows:
1. IBAN – the account number in international format and the exact account name and address of the payee (if an incorrect IBAN is used, the payment order may be declined)
 2. BIC – international bank code and exact name and address of the payee’s bank

If the IBAN and BIC is not provided by the payment transaction to the stated countries and in the stated currencies (a list of these countries is available on the Bank’s website), the payment transaction will not be accepted by the “Bank” for processing.

If IBAN and BIC are provided in the wrong fields, the payment transaction may not be executed or the foreign bank may charge an additional fee for the transaction.

In the case of execution of payment transaction to a country that does not use the IBAN format, the payee’s bank details shall be specified as follows:

1. Account number
2. Exact name of the account and address of the payee
3. BIC/clearing (sort) code of the payee’s bank, the exact name and registered office of the branch of the payee’s bank which maintains the account

If only the BIC is specified in the payment order, i.e. if the bank’s name is not specified, the order will be processed on the basis of the BIC. If both details are specified but the BIC does not correspond with the name of the bank, the payment order will be processed based on the BIC. If the specified BIC is invalid, the order will be processed according to the bank’s name and seat of the bank. If the name and registered office of the bank is not sufficient for properly executing the payment order, the order will not be executed. The same principles also apply when using the clearing (sort) code instead of the BIC.

- c) Currency of transfer: AUD, BGN, CAD, CHF, CZK, DKK, EUR, GBP, HKD, HRK, HUF, JPY, NOK, NZD, PLN, RON, RUB, SEK, USD, TRY, TND and ZAR. Transfers in CNY, INR, THB and SGD are available only for corporate clients. If the currency of transfer is the Czech crown, it is necessary to check with the Bank in advance whether the foreign (receiving) bank accepts payments in Czech crowns.
- d) Due date – the date on which the funds are to be debited from the Client account.
- e) Fee payment method – the method applied by the Bank for transfer fees:

SHA	BEN	OUR
The payer covers its bank’s fees and the payee covers fees of other	All fees are covered by the payee. For this reason the payee will	All fees are covered by the payer. For this reason the payee will banks. For this reason, the payee may receive the payment minus any fees charged by other banks.	receive the payment minus any fees charged by all banks involved.	receive the payment in its full amount.

SHA can be chosen only for payments to European Economic Area countries. OUR is possible only if the transfer involves a conversion between the payment currency and the Client's account currency, i.e. when the transfer currency differs from the account currency. For these transfers, BEN cannot be chosen at all.

If the order is submitted with an incorrectly specified fee payment method, the bank will change BEN and OUR to SHA (excluding payments with conversion of the currencies). If no fee payment method is selected, the payment will be processed using SHA. Payments up to CZK 2,000 or its foreign currency equivalent will be executed only if the payment order contains the fee payment method SHA or OUR; orders using BEN will not be executed.

In case of payments in currencies of countries outside the European Economic Area, it is possible that the payee will not receive the full amount of the payment. For payments in USD currency, the payee may not receive the payment in its full amount, even in the case of choosing OUR.

- f) Contractual exchange rate – if a contractual exchange rate for executing the payment is agreed between the Client and the Bank in advance, such rate has to be specified in the payment order. If the relevant field is not filled in, the Bank will execute the exchange rate conversion based on the current exchange rate list effective at the time of execution.
- g) Signature – must correspond with the signature specimen provided in the signature specimen form for the account.

Some payees' banks or countries require certain details to be filled in the payment order in a special manner, e.g. for payments in RUB (Russian roubles) sent to the Russian Federation. In cases where failure to meet these special requirements would mean that the payment transaction will not be executed for the payee, orders which do not meet special, known requirements of foreign banks may be declined. More information on these details is available on the Bank's website.

Payment orders may also contain the following optional data:

- a) Purpose of the payment transaction, i.e. additional information relating to the payment transaction which is relevant to the payee;
- b) Priority of execution of the payment transaction;
- c) Instructions for sending confirmation that payment transaction was executed;
- d) Instruction for sending information SMS on potential non-execution of the payment transaction;

4. CURRENCY CONVERSION FOR PAYMENT TRANSACTIONS

4.1 Currency Conversion Rules for Payment Transactions

All operations on payment account are executed and settled in the currency in which the payment account is maintained. If the payment transaction is entered in a different currency, the Bank will recalculate (convert) the amount to the account currency.

Currency recalculation (conversion) for outgoing payments and SEPA direct debit is executed by the Bank as follows based on its exchange rate list effective at the time the order and SEPA direct debit order was accepted:

- a) For foreign-currency orders from a CZK account, the non-cash sell rate is used;
- b) For CZK orders from an account maintained in a foreign currency, the non-cash buy rate is used;
- c) For foreign-currency orders from an account maintained in another foreign currency, the Bank will convert the amount from the transfer currency to CZK using the non-cash sell rate and will then recalculate the amount in CZK to the account currency using the non-cash buy rate.

The Bank will execute orders with future due dates, standing orders, and orders with repeated settlement after the due date (e.g. in the case of insufficient funds on the account) using the first exchange rate effective on the order execution date.

The Bank recalculates (converts) currencies for incoming payments using the current exchange rate effective at the time of processing. Where incoming foreign payments are concerned:

- a) Payment in a foreign currency made to a CZK account – the Bank will convert the amount to CZK using the non-cash buy rate;
- b) Payment in CZK made to a foreign currency account – the Bank will convert the amount to the account currency using the non-cash sell rate;
- c) Payment in a foreign currency made to an account maintained in a different foreign currency – the Bank will recalculate the amount of transfer currency to CZK using the non-cash buy rate and subsequently will recalculate the amount in CZK to the account currency using the non-cash sell rate.

The Bank settles cross-border transactions by card (payment by card at a merchant, cash withdrawal) in Czech currency. If the Client makes a cross-border transaction by card in a different foreign currency than EUR, the card company will recalculate the payment according to its rules to EUR. The conversion will be conducted using the association's exchange rate effective on the transaction processing date. The Bank will debit the amount from the payment account in CZK recalculated from EUR using its rate effective on the date on which the transaction is processed by the Bank. In case of payment by card at a merchant non cash sell rate is used, in case of cash withdrawal cash sell rate is used.

If the Corporate Client has a multi-currency function agreed for the payment card, the Bank will settle the payment transaction by crediting the account whose currency is identical to the payment transaction currency. Only in cases where there is not a sufficient balance available on the given account at the time of the payment transaction execution or where the Client does not have an account in the payment transaction currency will the Bank settle such payment transaction by debiting the main account. If the main account is maintained in CZK, first the currency conversion to CZK will be carried out via the method described in the paragraph above and subsequently the amount will be converted to the main account currency using the Bank's non-cash buy rate effective on the date when the payment transaction is processed by the Bank.
