1. Foreword

Erste Group, with its 46,000 employees and more than 16 million customers in seven countries, is one of the leading financial service providers in Central and Eastern Europe.

As a result of our position and activities, we bear a great measure of responsibility. The way that we – the employees – behave and treat one another is testimony to who we are and what we stand for. What we do also has an impact on our external stakeholders: our investors, governmental authorities, society as a whole, our suppliers and, in particular, our customers. For this reason, we always need to ask ourselves if we are acting responsibly – the pursuit of profit does not justify any breach of the law or of our commitments set out in this Code, which is based on our Statement of Purpose. Erste Group relies on every single employee to make a careful and well-considered judgement of what is right and proper in any given situation. The question “Is it the right thing to do?” is one of our key points in our Statement of Purpose and must be a guideline for our activities.

The Erste Group Code of Conduct provides a reference point for our actions and behaviour and serves as a binding set of rules governing the behaviour for our daily business activities. It describes what is important to us and makes our commitments clear and sets the basis to act as a good corporate citizen. The Code of Conduct shows that we need to act responsibly, respectfully and sustainably in all aspects of our operations, thereby enabling us to protect our good reputation and build trust among our stakeholders.

Much of what is laid down by the Code of Conduct has become a long-standing tradition within Erste Group and is an intrinsic part of our daily work. However, we still have a long way to go. The Erste Group Code of Conduct demands consistent action throughout across the organization and enables Group-wide control. It is therefore an important quality assurance tool both internally and externally, because for us, quality means fostering respectful, trusting relationships with one another and with our external stakeholders.

We will develop the Erste Group Code of Conduct on an ongoing basis. Compliance is mandatory for us all – including myself and my fellow Board members, of course. Our good reputation and the trust placed in us constitute our most valuable assets, which this Code will help safeguard, preserve and expand.

Christoph Schoefboeck

CEO

2. Governance

Our management and control systems serve two objectives: keep our organization running smoothly and safeguard the interests of all of our stakeholders.
