The fixed monthly interest rate and the corresponding APR value may differ depending on the term of the Installment. The monthly interest rate is fixed. The Bank calculates the interest based on the following formula:

$$\text{Monthly interest} = \frac{\text{Capital amount} \times \text{interest rate (\%)} \times 30 \text{ day}}{36\,500}$$

The bank reserves the right to determine a different interest rate for each installment, taking into account its internal credit assessment rules and business interests.

The Bank charges interest on the disbursed loan from the date of disbursement, taking into account the length of the given settlement period. Payment of the installment monthly interest is due in monthly parts, including the capital.

The due date of the installments (capital and monthly interest) is the same as the Payment deadline of the credit card specified in the Statement.

APR (Total Loan Rate):

The internal interest rate, which expresses the ratio of the total fee of the loan compared to the total amount of the loan on an annual basis. When calculating the APR, we take into account:

- all fees to be paid by the Customer who is considered a consumer by the Credit Institutions Act in connection with the credit or loan agreement (including interest, fees, commissions and taxes),
- the costs of additional services related to the loan, if they are known to the Bank.

The use of these service(s) is required for the conclusion of the credit or loan agreement-in accordance with the provisions of the Government Decree 83/2010. (III.25.). The APR has been defined with respect to the current conditions and effective legal regulations, and may be modified upon any change in the associated terms and conditions. APR does not reflect the interest-related risks of the loan The detailed terms and rules on the calculation and publication of the APR can be found in Government Decree 83/2010. (III.25.). In the case of a credit card, when calculating the Reference APR, the Bank calculates a credit line of HUF 375,000.
