II. GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

According to the resolution of the Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on 03.12.2012 (“the Resolution”), the Issuer will increase its share capital by the maximum amount of LEI 77.076.900, based on the valid subscriptions of the shareholders, by issuing a number of 770.769.000 shares with a nominal value of LEI 0,1 each and a subscription price of LEI 0,65 /each share (formed of LEI 0,1 representing nominal value per share and LEI 0,55 representing the issuing premium per share).

The newly issued shares are offered for subscription only to the preference right holders. Each preference right holder will be entitled to subscribe no more than the maximum number of new shares he is entitled to, at the subscription price.

The shares which, by the time the subscription period expires, remain unsubscribed are cancelled based on the Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders resolution.

A. Calculation method for the “number of new shares every shareholder is entitled to subscribe”

The “number of new shares every shareholder is entitled to subscribe” is calculated as follows:

- 1) The (algebraic) number of newly issued shares the shareholder is entitled to subscribe is calculated as follows:

(the individual percentage stake of the share capital on the reference date) \times (number of new shares) / 100

- The individual percentage stake is calculated by dividing the number of shares held on the reference date by the total number of existent shares on the reference date (namely, 15.534.355.438);
- The number of newly issued shares is 770.769.000.

- 2) If the number obtained according to the point 1 above is not a whole number, the maximum number of new shares a shareholder is entitled to subscribe is calculated by downwardly rounding the decimals at all times, so that the shareholder would be entitled to subscribe the immediately preceding whole number of shares:

Example: for a 1.000 shares stake, the new shares number is calculated as follows:

- a) calculating the individual percentage quota:

$$1.000 \text{ (shares held)} / 15.534.355.438 \text{ (total shares number)} \times 100 = 0.00000006437345\%$$

- b) calculating the algebraic number of new shares the shareholders is entitled to:

$$0.00000006437345\% \text{ (percentage quota)} \times 770.769.000 \text{ (maximum number of new shares)} / 100 = 49,6 \text{ shares}$$

- c) by decimal rounding \Rightarrow 49 new shares the shareholder is entitled to subscribe

Information regarding the current number of shares and the number of new shares a shareholder is entitled to can be obtained at:
