Chapter 1. INTRODUCTION

A. REGULATION

All business relationships between legal entities, Self-Employed Individuals ("SEI"), professionals according to the Civil Code (hereinafter referred to as "Clients" or "Clients") and Banca Comerciala Romana, a two tier managed company, registered with the Trade Register under no. J40/90/1991, Sole Registration Code 361757, registered under no. RB-PJR-40-008/1999 with the Credit Institutions Register, share capital LEI 1,625,341,625.40, with the headquarters in Bucharest, 159 Calea Plevnei, Business Garden, Bucharest, Building A, 6th Floor, District 6, postal code 060013, contact.center@bcr.ro, website www.bcr.ro (hereinafter referred to as „BCR” or „Bank”) are governed by these General Business Terms and Conditions (hereinafter "GBTC ") as well as by the specific terms and conditions of the products and services purchased by the Client. Schedules 1 to 8 attached herein, including The BCR's List of Commissions for LE, form an integral part of GBTC.

The supervisory authority of the Bank is the National Bank of Romania ("NBR"), headquartered in Romania, Bucharest, 25 Lipscani Street, District 3, postal code 030031.

These GBTC contain important information for the Bank's clients and together with all the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank, as well as the other documents the Client has agreed to sign in order to provide contract BCR's products and services, represent the contractual aspects applicable to the business contractual relationship between the Client and BCR and to the products and/or the services that BCR provides to the Client. Any such document signed by the Client together with BCR will be herein referred to as the "Contractual Documentation". The business relationship between the Client and the Bank is based on mutual trust.

By signing the Contractual Documentation, the Client agrees that the Contractual Documentation including these GBTC, as updated from time to time, reflects in full the Client's will as regards the services provided by BCR and supersedes any other arrangements, written instruments, pre-contractual documents or negotiations that took place between Client's representatives and BCR before signing the Contractual Documentation. There are no secondary elements related to the Contractual Documentation and to the agreement between the Client and BCR that have not been reflected in the Contractual Documentation.

By signing any other document within the Contractual Documentation, the Client confirms that BCR has made available the provisions of these GBTC, either by accessing them on the website www.bcr.ro, or upon request, on paper in the BCR locations or in electronic format by sending to the Client's e-mail address, and the Contractual Documentation in general, as well as any information necessary to understand their provisions. Thus, the Client agrees to assume the risk of error in understanding any provision in the Contractual Documentation, including the present GBTC within the meaning of Article 1209 of the Civil Code.

The GBTC are providing the general Contractual Documentation pursuant to which the Bank agrees to supply services and the Client agrees to use the products and services supplied by the Bank.

The GBTC are supplemented by:

- (a) Contractual Documentation, in particular by the provisions of the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank specific to each product or service executed/accepted by the Client by explicit or implicit acceptance (including those for products and services not covered by these GBTC or for products and services contracted before October 1, 2017);

- (b) the applicable laws, including the regulations issued by the National Bank of Romania; and
- (c) the international and domestic banking practice.

In case there are any discrepancies between the GBTC and the provisions of the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank specific to each product or service, the provisions of the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank specific to each product or service shall prevail except for those that came into force prior to the entry into force of the GBTC; in this latter case the GBTC shall take precedence.

In case there are discrepancies between the GBTC and the applicable laws, the applicable laws shall prevail.

If not expressly mentioned in these GBTC, the provisions of Title III and Title IV, Articles 141, 171, 172, 177, 179 (1), 182, 190, 203, 204, 205, 207, 208, 209, 210 and 211 of the Law 209/ 2019 on payment services, and for amending some other normative acts does not apply to the contractual relationship between the Bank and the Client.

The execution of a Contractual Application Form of the Bank by the Client amounts to full and unconditional agreement by the Client with all the terms and conditions of the GBTC.

B. DEFINITIONS

The terms used in this document will have the meaning given in Schedule 1 - General definitions of these GBTC.

C. SCOPE

1. All business contractual relationships between Clients and the Bank, including the Banking Units that administer Clients, are governed by these GBTC, together with the Schedules hereto, as well as the terms and conditions specific to the products and services purchased by the Client.
2. In case of a new Client, the business contractual relationship between the Bank and a respective Client will become effective since the date upon which the Client signs the Contractual Application Form of the Bank dedicated to the initiation of the business contractual relationship and for the purchase of banking products and services and will be governed by the Contractual Documentation, including GBTC, as updated from time to time. The GBTC shall continue to apply to the business contractual relationship between the Bank and the Client and remains into force until the date of the business contractual relationship termination and closing of all the Client's accounts and, as the case may be, all the products and services contracted from the Bank.
3. The Bank is entitled to amend the GBTC and/or BCR's List of Commissions for LE and/or BCR's List of Commissions for SEI. The Client is informed about any amendment of these documents by posting such amendment in the Banking Units and/or on the Bank's website (www.bcr.ro) with at least 30 calendar days before the proposed date for entry into force thereof.
4. Before entry into force of the amendment mentioned under point 3 above, the Client may notify the Bank by registered mail with return receipt or by delivery to the Banking Unit managing the Client with regard to the rejection of GBTC and/or BCR's List of Commissions for LE and/or BCR's List of Commissions for SEI and termination of the Contractual Documentation. The new terms and conditions will be deemed to be tacitly accepted by the Client if the Client does not send such a notification before the entry into force of the GBTC and/or BCR's List of Commissions for LE and/or BCR's List of Commissions for SEI.

5. The amendment or termination of a specific contract entered into by the Bank and the Client based on a Contractual Application Form of a Bank, is made in accordance with the provisions of such Contractual Application Form and does not affect the validity of the other specific contracts concluded between the Client and the Bank or these GBTC.
6. Any derogation from the application of the Contractual Documents, including the GBTC, to the Client must be expressly agreed to in writing by the Bank and the Client.

Chapter 2. OPENING, PERFORMANCE OF TRANSACTIONS AND CLOSING OF ACCOUNTS

A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. The bank will treat the payment instructions sent through Service Providers responsible with the payment initiation without discrimination in relation to the Payments Instructions sent directly by the Client when the Service Provider responsible with the Payment Initiation identifies itself to the Bank and acts in compliance with the enforceable legal provisions every time it initiates a Payment Instruction.

5. The Bank carries out the assessment of the authenticity of the instructions issued by the Client based on the following procedure:

a) for the paper based instructions: by plain comparison of the signatures inscribed on the instruction with those inscribed on the signature specimen submitted with the Bank and based on the Client's identification data.

b) for instructions issued by the Client in electronic format: authentication methods, identified according to TCUEB attached to these GBTC;

c) for payment instructions made using a Card: authentication methods, identified according to the TCUEDB attached to these GBTC.

6. In case the amounts transferred to the Client's account, if the beneficiary account mentioned within the payment message is denominated in other currency than the one of the transferred amount, then the Bank may, at its own choice, without any notification or without obtaining any confirmation/ refusal of any kind from the Client, to execute the incoming payment by crediting the beneficiary account with the equivalent in the account's currency of of the amount transferred, or to refuse the transaction execution.

In case the amounts transferred from the Client's account, if the payer account mentioned within the payment message is denominated in other currency than the one of the transferred amount, then the Bank may, at its own choice, without any notification or without obtaining any confirmation / refusal of any kind from the Client, to execute the outgoing payment by debiting the payer account with the equivalent in the account's currency of the amount to be transferred, or to refuse the transaction execution.

In all cases, the foreign exchange conversion will be executed using the Bank's foreign exchange rate valid at the moment the amount is credited or debited. By accepting these GBTC, the Client grants the Bank a full, irrevocable and unconditional mandate (valid until the termination of the contractual relationship with the Bank, Article 2015 of the Civil Code being excluded from application) to effect any foreign exchange transactions at the Bank's exchange rate valid at the time of the relevant operation.

In case an outgoing or incoming payment that was executed by the Bank through a foreign exchange conversion as previously described, is reversed regardless the reason (e.g. the payment order was rejected by the beneficiary's payment services provider, the payment order was revoked by the payer based on the beneficiary's acceptance etc.), the Bank will execute the reversal transaction at the new foreign exchange rate applied by the Bank, valid at the moment the conversion is executed. The Bank is not liable for any losses triggered by the differences and fluctuations in foreign exchange rates between the moment the initial outgoing or incoming payment transaction was executed and the moment when the reversal transaction is executed, any such losses being fully supported by the Client.

7. The Bank shall not be liable towards the Client for any erroneous instructions given by the Client with respect to the amounts on the account. In case of erroneous instructions which have resulted into withdrawal or transfer of the amounts from the account, the Bank shall seek to recover such amounts, without being in any way obliged to the Client to do so or, if payment's beneficiary agreement exists, to the beneficiary.

In case of an erroneous transfer by the Bank to the Client of certain amounts to which the latter is not entitled, the Bank shall reverse the transfer of such amounts, taking also into account the impact of such amounts on interest, by proceeding to the recalculation and regularisation of the interest to which the Client is not entitled starting with the date on which such amounts have been calculated, the Client irrevocable and unconditional authorizing the Bank in this respect. The correction thus made will be reflected in the account statement.

8. The Client may not revoke a payment instruction after giving its consent, save the payment instructions with respect to which the Client and the Bank have agreed to be settled in a specific day or at the end of a specific period or on the day the Client delivers the necessary funds at the Bank's disposal, when the Client can revoke the payment order at least at the end of the Working Day preceding the agreed day for the disbursement of funds. In this case, the Bank may charge a revoking commission according to the applicable BCR's List of Commissions for LE and/or BCR's List of Commissions for SEI.
9. Any request by the Client to perform a foreign exchange and/or a Financial Transaction, by signing a foreign exchange order, any other type of order or document or by signing a specific Contractual Application Form of the Bank, confirmed through a recorded telephone conversation, on the electronic platform or by using any other modality agreed with the Bank, settled immediately or at another currency date, is deemed irrevocable. All costs generated by variations of foreign exchange and/or quotations shall be borne by the Client. Similarly, in case of failure to comply with the order as placed as well as in case the Client modifies the order delivered to the Bank, all consequences, including without limitation, additional costs incurred by the Bank, shall be completely borne by the Client.

10. In case the Client requests withdrawal from the account of certain amounts denominated in foreign currency, the Bank shall release the amounts of foreign currency equal to the lei equivalent thereof, at the exchange rate posted by the Bank as applicable on the payment date.

11. Transactions which may be performed via the current account include but are not limited to:

a) cash collection and transfer transactions at the Banking Units within the working hours;

b) cash payment transactions at the Banking Units within the working hours;

For the cash release in LEI and foreign currency above a certain limit set by the Bank, according to the specifications included in the Applicable BCR's List of Commissions, it is necessary to make a prior appointment at the banking unit cashier desk, from where the cash withdrawal is requested. The unscheduled withdrawals can be made solely with the Bank's consent.

If the Client omits to notify the Bank in advance with respect to its intended cash withdrawals and the Bank does not hold sufficient available funds in such currency, the Bank may, upon Client's request, release the amount requested in another currency or in lei.

In case the Client fails to withdraw the cash amount on the day scheduled for such cash withdrawal, the Bank's obligation to keep the respective cash amount to the benefit of the Client shall cease.

c) banking transfer transactions at the Banking Units or electronically.

12. The Client agrees that the Bank's signature and stamp inscribed on the payment order in the "received" section shall be interpreted as a confirmation of receipt thereof for the purpose of processing and shall not be deemed as an acceptance of payment. Receipt of a paper based payment order shall be made in the Client's presence and constitute the procedure by which the Bank acknowledges the receipt of the payment order for the purpose of conformity assessment, acceptance and performance thereof.

The Bank shall deem an (interbank) payment order accepted and performed when the payment order is reflected in the account statement of the correspondent bank.

The Bank shall deem an (intrabank) payment order accepted and performed when the account specified by the paying Client in the payment order is debited with the respective amount.

13. The Bank will perform the operations in accordance with the Client's instructions only if it has provided the unique identification code composed of:

a) the International Bank Account Number (IBAN) in the case of LEI - denominated payment transactions within the territory of Romania, respectively in euro in the SEPA area (Single Euro Payment Area);

b) IBAN code and account number for countries that did not join IBAN and the beneficiary's bank identification code (BIC / SWIFT / Routing Code), respectively the name and address of the beneficiary's bank in the case of LEI payments outside Romania and the currency Euro outside the SEPA area).

14. In order to process a payment, the Client, as the ordering party, has to provide to the Bank the following mandatory information:

a) in case of domestic payments in Lei within the territory of Romania: name and IBAN account of the payer, name and IBAN account of the beneficiary, amount to be paid, due date.

In addition to the information mentioned above, in case of payments initiated towards the State Treasury, the Client, as ordering party has to provide the following mandatory information: fiscal identification code of the payer and beneficiary, payment registration number (if case), payment order number, reference concerning the economic content of the payment transaction

b) in case of foreign currency payments, including domestic payments and crossborder payments in Lei: (i) payer: name, address (street, town, country), IBAN account; (ii) beneficiary: name, address (street, town, country), IBAN account (in case of countries using IBAN accounts)/ account number (in case of countries not using IBAN accounts); (iii) beneficiary's bank: name, address, BIC code; (iv) statistical information for NBR, according to the legal provisions; (v) due date; (vi) amount and currency of the payment transaction; (vii) commissioning option.

15. During the processing of the payment, the Bank will apply the following general rules:

a) In case there are discrepancies between the beneficiary's BIC bank on one side and the name and/or beneficiary bank's address on the other, the Bank will use in the processing flow the BIC (which together with the IBAN code represents the unique identification code) provided by the Client, without notifying the Client, as ordering party, or asking for a confirmation/ refusal of any sort;

b) In case of payments in Euro for which the beneficiary's bank is located in an European Union (EU)/ European Economic Area (EEA) membre state, the Client, as the ordering party can choose not to provide the beneficiary's bank BIC, in which case the Bank will extract the BIC from the IBAN of the beneficiary account. If the Client, as ordering party, chooses to provide the beneficiary's bank BIC, the Bank will use the BIC provided by the Client in the processing flow, regardless if it is different from the BIC extracted by the Bank from the IBAN code of the beneficiary account, without notifying the Client, as ordering party, or asking for a confirmation/ refusal of any sort,

c) The BEN commissioning type is not used, regardless of the payment transaction type. If the Client, as ordering party, indicates specifically BEN commissioning type, regardless of the payment transaction type, the Bank is specifically and irrevocably authorised by the Client to execute the payment transaction by using the SHA commissioning type, without notifying the Client, or asking for a confirmation / refusal of any sort.

d) In case of payment transactions in Euro or any other national currency of a European Union (EU)/ European Economic Area (EEA) membre state, for which the beneficiary bank is located in a membre state of the European Union (EU)/European Economic Area (EEA), the Client, as ordering party has to indicate only SHA commissioning type,

e) Without prejudice to the application of the rule referred to letter d) above, if the Client, as ordering party, indicates OUR as commissioning type for a payment transaction made within European Union (EU)/European Economic Area (EEA) for which the beneficiary's payment service provider is located in an European Union (EU)/European Economic Area (EEA) membre state, the Bank will process the payment transaction with OUR commissioning type specifically indicated by the Client, thus understanding that the Client will bear the OUR guaranteed fee and understanding that the Client is fully responsible for any and all consequences of using the OUR commissioning type;

f) If the Client, as ordering party, specifically indicated the OUR or BEN commissioning type for a payment transaction in Euro for which the beneficiary's payment service provider is located in an

European Union (EU)/ European Economic Area (EEA) member state, the Bank is specifically and irrevocably authorised by the Client through the GBTC to process the payment transaction by automatically using SHA commissioning type without notifying the Client, or asking for a confirmation/ refusal of any sort;

g) In case the Client, as ordering party does not indicate specifically a commissioning type, regardless of the payment transaction type, the Bank is expressly authorized by the Client through the GBTC to process the payment transaction with SHA commissioning type without notifying the Client, or asking for a confirmation/ refusal of any sort.

16. In case of payments in foreign currency of a state member of the European Union or European Economic Area, the amounts ordered shall be transferred in full and shall not be decreased by the value of the commission charged by the Bank, when the payment service provider is located in a state member of the Union European or European Economic Area or when the Bank is the only payment service provider involved in the payment transaction.
17. If the originator/beneficiary of a payment/collection may not be clearly identified, the beneficiary/ originator shall be required to present the Bank with all identification data which is necessary for the processing of the transaction.
18. For payments in foreign currency, the funds shall be debited from the account of the paying Client on the date of receipt subject to COT limitations.
19. If a PO is received out of COT limitations, such PO shall be deemed to be received in the following Business Day.
20. In its capacity as the beneficiary's payment service provider, the Bank shall credit the Client's account immediately after that amount is credited into the Bank's account when (i) there is no monetary conversion; or (ii) there is a monetary conversion between euro and Lei or between two currencies of the state members of the Union European (UE)/ European Economic Area (EEA). In case that none of the above mentioned conditions is fulfilled, the Bank will credit the Client's account in the day when the Bank's account has been credited or on the next Business Day. In all cases, the Bank will credit the Client's account with the currency date on which the Bank's account was credited. As the payer's bank, the currency date on which the Client's account is debited will not be earlier than the moment when the amount that is the subject of the payment transaction is debited from the account.
21. After the receipt of the payment order, the amount of the payment transaction is debited from the Client's account and credited to the beneficiary's bank account at the latest by the end of the following business day for:
 - a) payment transactions in the currency of a state member of the Union European (UE)/ European Economic Area (EEA), other than Euro, performed on Romanian territory;
 - b) payment transactions in Euro for which the beneficiary's bank is in a Member State of the European Union (EU)/ European Economic Area (EEA),
 - c) payment transactions involving a single monetary conversion between the euro and the currency of a state member of the Union European (UE)/ European Economic Area (EEA), other than Euro made in Romania, and - in the case of cross-border payment transactions across the EU and the EEA - the cross-border transfer takes place in euro.

The Client and the Bank agree that the execution term for any other payment transactions made within the EU or EEA territory in the national currencies of the EU and EEA countries is up to 4 Business Days from receipt of the payment order. Payment transactions executed in other currencies other than the euro and the national currencies of EU and EEA countries will be executed by the Bank within a reasonable timeframe according to the nature of the transaction. In the case of operations initiated on paper, the Client agrees to extend the period mentioned above paragraph with one Business Day.

22. In connection with ID payment operations, the Client shall present the documents for any proceeds collection in compliance with the applicable terms and flows, after having been ensured itself that its right of recourse shall not be affected.
23. The preparation by the Client of the bordereau for the payment instruments is mandatory in case of ID payment instruments.
24. The Bank may perform remote transactions depending on the characteristics of each product offered to the Client.
25. The Bank's liability to the Client is limited to the damages caused as a result of a breach of the GBTC by wilful misconduct or gross negligence. None of the provision set out in this document shall be interpreted in a sense which contravenes this rule. If the unique identification code provided by the Client is incorrect, the Bank is not held liable for the failure to perform or the defective execution of the payment transaction. Nonetheless, the Bank, as the payer's bank, shall make every effort to recover the funds involved in the payment transaction. Also, as the beneficiary's payment service provider, the Bank shall cooperate with the payer's bank, including by communicating with the payer's payment service provider all relevant information for the adequate fund collection. For recovery operation, the Bank may charge a commission according to the applicable BCR's List of Commissions. In case a payment order is initiated directly by the Client, as payer, and the Bank may prove that the beneficiary's payment service provider has received the amount subject of the payment transaction, Bank's responsibility shall cease and the beneficiary's payment service provider become responsible for the proper execution of the payment transaction. In case that a payment order is initiated directly by a payer's to the benefit of the Client and the payer's payment service provider can not prove that the Bank has received the amount subject to the payment order, the Bank is not liable towards the Client.
26. The Bank is exonerated from any liability, if the instructions sent to the other banks are not fulfilled, even if the Bank had the initiative in selecting the correspondent bank.
27. Unless it has received written instructions to the contrary, the Bank may, at its discretion and in accordance with the banking practice, send, at the Client's risk, the valuable items, secured or unsecured documents, by registered mail or by post, bearing the minimum value stated.
28. The bank shall enforce the payment instructions presented directly by the Client, including standing orders (STO) or through the payment beneficiary, solely if the Client's current account available balance is enough to enforce the respective instructions and the payment of the fees pertaining to it, as mentioned in the Applicable BCR's List of Commissions charged to legal bodies. In the case of the payment instructions which can be partially enforced and the account balance is insufficient for the full enforcement of the instruction and the payment of the pertaining fees, then the Bank will charge, with priority, the pertaining fees, the amount thus resulted being used for enforcing the respective instruction. The Bank shall not perform partial payments of the standing orders with a fixed amount and payment instructions presented through a beneficiary. The Bank has the right to charge fees for the refusal of enforcing such instructions according to the Applicable BCR's List of Commissions. In case the Client's current account balance is not sufficient for charging the countervalue of these fees, the Bank may book the respective amounts as overdue, their recovery being performed as per the provisions of Chapter 3, Section C Bank's rights, para 11.

29. If a Client requires the Bank to open an account for carrying out the payments of emoluments /crediting collateral deposits accounts for retention money guarantees, such a Client undertakes to use a special current/ an internal transitory account opened with the Bank, solely for the initiation of the payment operations of emoluments /crediting collateral deposits accounts for retention money guarantees, along with an electronic payments solution or offline (without any access to the Internet), which the Bank will make available to the former.

Initiation of another type of payment instructions from such an account is not allowed and the Client undertakes to assure, within 2 business days since the crediting a transitory account, 0 balance until the date of a next crediting of the account (including by the transfers of the returned payments). Non-compliance with the afore-mentioned obligations shall be considered a violation of the provisions of these GBTC, the Bank being entitled to unilaterally terminate the contractual relationship with the Client and, implicitly, all the contracts concluded based on the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank and these GBTC, without any formal notice and any other formalities, by simple communication to the Client of a written notification regarding a unilateral termination, including the closing of the accounts and ceasing of delivery of all products and services included therein.

30. The Funds Availability Confirmation Service is provided by the Bank based upon the explicit consent given by the Client on a durable medium through electronic banking services as per Appendix 7 – TCUEB, in order to answer the requests from a certain Payment Instruments Issuing based on Cards Provider, regarding the confirmation of the fact that the amount corresponding to a certain payment operation based on the card is available in the accessible Client's online account.

E. EVIDENCE OF TRANSACTIONS AND STATEMENTS OF ACCOUNT

1. Upon the Client's request the Bank will issue statements of account. Upon the Client's, the Bank may issue duplicate statements of account. The issuance of statement of accounts and of duplicates thereof at the Client's request is subject to payment of a commission in accordance with the Applicable BCR's List of Commissions.
2. Statements of account set out information on any operation effected on the account, for example the reference that allows identification of the payment transaction, information about the payee, the exchange rate used in the payment transaction, if applicable, the date of registration for the operations, type and value of the operations, the accepting trading entity or ATM where a card transaction was carried out (if applicable), interest and related commissions, etc.

3. The statements will be issued by the Bank, at its desks, through electronic banking services used by the Client or to the email address communicated to the Bank for the issuance of the document in accordance with the Chapter 6. Final provision, Section B “Client-Bank” Communication.

F. CLOSING OF ACCOUNTS

1. The Client may apply for the closing of any account opened on its name by signing an application form of a Bank dedicated to such operation by its legal representative or by the Account attorney-in-fact, as set out in the power of attorney granted. In case of the accounts which closing is conditioned by the fulfilment by the Client or by a third party of precedent legal or contractual obligations, the Bank shall implement the Client’s request only after the fulfilment of such obligations. Upon closing of the account, the Bank shall cease the delivery to the Client of all the products and services attached to the respective account.
2. The closing of the account upon Client’s request will only be performed after payment of all amounts due by the Client to the Bank and, if applicable, the closure of all the products and services attached to that account. After closing the current account, the cards issued on the closed account can no longer be used, and they are blocked by the Bank, the Client having the obligation to return the debit card in accordance with the provisions of Annex 6 (Terms and Conditions regarding the Use of Business Debit Cards for legal entities and Self-Employed Individuals) to these GBTC.
3. Upon closing of the account, the Client returns the cheque books/sheets, including the cards provided by the Bank. As of closing of the account these documents become void, being deemed either null or inexistent. The Bank is under no obligation to settle cheques or other negotiable instruments after closing of the account.
4. The Client may not request the closing of the account in case its access to the account has been restricted according to the law.
5. The Bank reserves the right to close any current account of the Client and, as applicable, to terminate the GBTC in any of the following situations:
 - a) automatically, with no notification or prior formality:
 - (i) in case the following prerequisites are met cumulatively:
 - i.1) the balance of the account is equal to or lower than Euro 15 (or an equivalent amount calculated in the currency of the account);
 - i.2) no operations have been performed over the current account for 3 months, except for those related to the computation of interest and commissions;
 - i.3) there are no active products attached to the respective current account.
 - (ii) as a result of non-compliance with the applicable legal provisions;
 - (iii) in case that upon consultation of the Trade Registry data base by the Bank, the Client appears to be deleted from the trade register and (i) the Client did not notify the Bank about the decision on deletion and the fact that it has not been appealed within the term set out by law or (ii) although the Client challenged the decision on deletion, it has been maintained after the appeal. In such case, the Bank shall terminate any product and service attached to the bank account(s);

- (iv) other cases set out by law;
- (v) occurrence of any major payment incidents with checks, promissory notes or bills of exchange;
- (vi) if, in the opinion of the Bank, the Client entails a reputational risk.

Without prejudice to paragraph 5, point a, the Bank, at its discretion, may consider to send notification on the closure of any current account from Banks initiative, according to the cases mentioned above.

By exemption from the provisions related to the services and products from the Appendixes to the current TCGA or in the Contractual Forms specific to the respective services and products, at the same time with the closing of the current accounts, automatically ceases and without any notification or other prior formality, all services attached to them and which facilitate the accounts usage and which cannot function independently (eg without limitation to: electronic banking services, Direct Debit, Standing Order, etc).

b) after the prior notification, sent 15 calendaristic days prior to the date of the actual closing of the account:

- (i) delays or refusal to present the Bank with the documents required or the amendments to such documents;
- (ii) failure to present the documents justifying the requested operations;
- (iii) failure to fully comply with the contractual obligations undertaken towards the Bank, if such events are not already included in para 5, point a) above.

6. Until actual closing of the account, the Client has the obligation to ensure that all the amounts existing within the respective account, except the amounts due to the Bank until the effective date of the closing of the account, are either transferred to a different account or withdrawn in cash. In case the Client does not chose one of these two options until the actual closing of the account, then the balance of such account shall be registered with the Bank's books under various creditors account, separately for each currency, with no interest accruing in relation therewith without affecting the Client's right to request such amounts within the applicable statutes of limitation. After expiration of limitation from the date of closing the current account, the Bank can reclassify the amounts above mentioned as income of the Bank.

G. TERM AND OVERNIGHT DEPOSITS

1. Term/ automatic overnight deposits will be opened by the Bank upon the Client's request in accordance with the information in the specific documentation regarding the deposits opening filled in by the Client. The deposit account shall be opened in the currency of the bank account from which the amounts are credited into the deposit account. The overnight deposits are managed by the Bank automatically, based on the mandate granted through the Contractual Application Form of the Bank for opening the overnight deposits, starting with the date of implementation of the latter.
2. Deposit operations will only be carried out through the Client's current account. The Bank shall issue the account statements for the operations performed in the deposit accounts, based on the Client's request.
3. As long as the automatic overnight deposits are concerned, the amount limit set by the Client for each bank current account/ sub-account represents the value based on which the Bank performs the automatic transfers to the overnight deposit accounts of the amounts that exceed that value, as follows:
 - a) if the bank current account/ sub-account balance exceeds the amount limit set by the account holder, then the Bank transfers automatically the exceeding amount to the overnight deposit account.
 - b) if the bank current account/ sub-account balance is lower or equal to amount limit set by the Client, then the Bank does not transfer automatically any amount to the overnight deposit account.
4. In case the Client has opted for rolling over the term deposit the Bank automatically extends the term of the deposit upon maturity for a term equal to the term for which the deposit was initially created and for the new automatically extended period shall apply the interest rate offered by the Bank on the automatic prolongation day.
5. Upon withdrawal of the amounts under the term deposit, prior to the maturity of such deposit the Bank applies interest to the amounts available on demand for the time period starting with the creation of the deposit until the termination of the term deposit. Any differences between the amount of paid interest and the amount of interest to which the Client is effectively entitled shall be recovered by the Bank from the amount available under the term deposit or from the current account/sub-account, as applicable.
6. The Account Holder expressly accepts the Bank's right to unilateral change the level of interest, as well as the level and charging mechanism of the fees related to the operations performed through the term deposit account. The minimum amount of the term deposit, as well as the interest and fees charged, are posted by the Bank at its territorial units in a visible place and on the Banks's website.

H. COLLATERAL DEPOSITS

1. The collateral deposits are opened based on the Client's request and are created for retention of certain amounts for the benefit of entities other than the owner of the funds, with the aim to guarantee the rendering of a service/ fulfilment of a legal obligation, etc.
2. The collateral deposits are opened in accordance with the specific Bank documentation as well as based on the documentation/legal provision which establishes the necessity of guaranty creation corresponding to each type of the collateral deposit. The type of collateral deposits includes, but without limiting to such: performance collateral deposit, collateral deposit for retention money, escrow account, collateral deposits for companies under incorporation, etc. The withdrawal of the amounts from the collateral deposit shall be done strictly in accordance with the specific documentation concluded by the Bank and the Client as well as pursuant to the legal provisions as the case may be.

3. The collateral deposits for retention money shall be opened on the name of the Client (account holder), one account for each Inventory-clerk (in Romanian: gestionar), for depositing the amounts retained as a guaranty and releasing them according to the provisions of law.

Chapter 3. RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE PARTIES

A. CLIENT'S RIGHTS

1. To receive the interest accrued with respect to the money available on the account, as determined in accordance with the Bank's regulations.
2. To credit the account via cash depositing with the Bank's units or via bank transfers from other accounts, opened with the Bank or with other banks.
3. To carry out transactions with the amounts available in the account, in accordance with the GBTC, the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank and the applicable legislation.
4. To receive from the Bank the statement of account evidencing the transactions carried out, in accordance with the terms set out in Chapter 2. Opening, performance of transactions and closing of accounts. Section E. Evidence of transactions and statements of account.

3. To provide the Bank with any data and documents requested by the Bank for the purpose of identifying the Client (including but not limited to the identification of the individual/persons qualified as the ultimate beneficial owner (term which shall have the meaning prescribed by the applicable legislation)), for opening the account and/or performing any operations on the bank accounts instructed by the Client. In addition, the Client declares that all documents and / or information provided or to be provided to the Bank for the duration of their contractual relationship are correct, up-to-date and complete.

The client understands and agrees that the Bank may consult public data basis (such as Trade Registry etc) in order to establish the shareholders structure up to the Beneficial owner and the relevant information regarding individuals holding or finally controlling the client. The Bank shall notify the Client in relation with the information from the public databases. If the Bank has not received a response from the client within 30 calendar days from the day when the notification was sent by the Bank, and in consideration of the provisions of article 1240 of the Civil code, the Client hereby agrees and confirms the Bank's right to use the information from the public databases into internal databases in order to update the data related to the Beneficial Owner.

4. To notify the Bank in case of occurrence of any event which triggers changes in the legal status of the Client, as compared to that initially stated, or in case of any changes in the data and information delivered to the Bank and to submit with the Bank any documents evidencing such changes and to replace accordingly the documents initially submitted as soon as possible from the occurrence of the respective change. Until the receipt by the Bank of such changes from the Client, including the evidence of registration thereof, the Bank shall be entitled to consider as valid the identification data and information in its possession at that time. The Bank shall not be liable for any potential damages caused as a result of failure to notify in a timely and secure manner the changes/amendments occurred or in case such information has been notified by Client to the Bank without being accompanied by the underlying documents. If within 3 years of the last update, no changes occur in the legal status of the Client or of the data and information provided to the Bank as referred to above and in Chapter 3 Rights and obligations, Section B Clients obligations, para 3, respectively, the Client undertakes to contact BCR from its own initiative to confirm the existing information.
5. To observe the Bank's working hours schedule posted at the Banking Units.
6. To periodically check information with respect to any changes occurring with respect to the level of commissions, fees and interests, which will be posted at the Banking Units.
7. To timely pay the banking commissions, fees and interests related to the transactions performed and products owned, in accordance with the Applicable BCR's List of Commissions applicable on the date of performance, which are posted at the Banking Units. If not expressly mentioned in these TCGA or/and specific contracts, the fees charged periodically are paid only in proportion to the period preceding the termination of the product and / or services contracted from the Bank. If commissions are paid in advance, they are reimbursed pro rata.
8. Upon depositing of cash at the Bank's cash desk, the Client shall await until the cash desk finalises the cash verification process. If the Client fails to comply with this obligation and certain inconsistencies occur, the Client undertakes to acknowledge the amount determined as a result of the verification process carried out by the cash desk of the relevant Banking Unit.

Any forged bills or coins presented to the Bank's offices shall be retained based on a protocol and afterwards handed over to the competent criminal investigation bodies.

9. To perform transactions on the account, in accordance with the applicable legal provisions, including, but not limited to, the legal rules for Direct Debit.

15. To use the debit payment instruments in compliance with the legislation in force. Clients requests with respect to any payment instrument being lost, stolen, destroyed will be accepted by the Bank only based on an enforceable court decision.
16. To bear any loss incurred as a result of any unauthorised payment transactions (by use of any lost or stolen payment instrument or as a result of inappropriate maintenance of the personalised Security Elements) or as a result of any unlawful use of a payment instrument prior to the notification of loss, theft, unlawful or unauthorised use of that respective payment instrument.
17. To indemnify the Bank against any damage, loss or expenditure borne by the Bank, which is incurred as a result of a breach by the Client of the GBTC, including against any damages, loss or expenditure borne by the Bank as a result of determining the financial responsibilities thereof for payment refusals.
18. To authorize and to maintain at all time the authorization of the Bank to perform any of the transactions set out in Chapter 3. Rights and obligations of the parties. Section C Bank's rights para.11.
19. To present the Bank, upon request, with the documents in original copies, in authenticated copies or in any other form as required by the Bank, as applicable.
20. To inform the Bank with respect to any restrictions/limitations related to the Client, the Account attorneys-in-fact or its accounts.
21. To prove good faith in relation with the Bank, so as not to affect the Bank's interests or prejudice third parties.
22. To notify the Bank with respect to any transactions on its accounts (save for the cards attached to such accounts) which are deemed to be unauthorised or performed inaccurately, including any errors/omissions in the statement of accounts as soon as possible, but in any event not later than 30 calendar days from the date when such transaction is performed. If within the 30 calendar days period the Client does not notify in writing the Banking Unit which has opened the account, such potential errors or omissions ascertained with respect to any performed transactions, the account balance and any transaction reflected in the account statement shall be deemed to be implicitly acknowledged by the Client.

23. To return to the Bank for invalidation the card attached to the current account with at least 30 days prior to such account being closed.
24. To comply with the payment terms of its obligations under the Contractual Documentation. In case the opposite occurs, the Client will be deemed in delay by the mere fulfilment of any payment term under the Contractual Documentation (respectively by failure to comply with the due dates determined under the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank), without any other formality.
25. The Client understands and acknowledges that the services offered by the Bank may be carried out by one or more companies part of BCR Group, by any other specialised third party company or by any other entities subcontracted by such companies.
26. Except as otherwise expressly agreed upon, the Client understands and accepts that its obligations resulting from or related to the GBTC and the Contractual Documentation are generally obligations whereas the result thereon is pursued. The repeated breach, even of minor importance, of the contractual obligations of the Client or the clear expression towards the Bank of the intention not to perform any of these obligations, may result in Client's loss of the benefit of the contractual terms provided for the fulfilment of the obligations under the Contractual Documentation or, where appropriate, the suspension by the Bank of the performance of the operations and of the specific instructions, the refusal of execution thereof, non-initiation or termination of the contractual business relationship or unilateral termination by the Bank of the contracts concluded based on the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank.
27. Starting from the day before the Completion Date, to ensure that the necessary amount of the Direct Debit Instruction, including the related commissions due to the Bank, is available on the current account.

C. BANK'S RIGHTS

1. To establish/ modify the mandatory minimum amount applicable to the opening of the current account and, respectively the minimum balance to which the Bank applies the spot interest.
2. To refuse the opening of accounts or performance of any transactions carried out by the Client and to terminate the business relationship with the Client, in accordance with the Bank's know your Client policy including but not limited to the instances where the Client delivers incomplete or insufficient information, in case of false statements or in case of suspicions of the Bank with respect to the conformity of the statements or documents delivered by the Client (or in case of suspicions regarding the Account attorneys-in-fact/Users and the nature of transactions).

In case of a refusal given to a payment order, the Bank shall notify the Client of its refusal and, if possible, of its underlying reasons, as well as of the remedial procedure pertaining to the errors which had led to this refusal, on condition that this fact is not forbidden by other relevant legal provisions in force.

The notification is sent to the Client via the same means or channel through which the payment order was initiated; by case, the Client shall then have the duty to observe the specific contractual provisions and/or guidelines mentioned in the guidebooks destined to using products/services regarding the interrogation of the status of these payment orders and/or notifications sent by the Bank. The Bank, at its own discretion, may choose to send the notification containing the refusal of the payment order to the Client through any other means than the one previously mentioned, without limitation to: simple or registered letter with receipt confirmation, direct delivery – by the Bank or via mail, courier, telephone call, mailbox, fax, SMS, email or any other means of electronic communication. The notification is deemed to be made at the time of its transmission by the Bank through one of the channels mentioned above and using the contact details transmitted by the Client. The Client is responsible for the accuracy of the contact details transmitted to the Bank and undertakes to notify the Bank of any changes thereto.

In case the refusal of a payment order is objectively justified, the Bank may charge fees, both for sending the notification and for the assessment of the causes which triggered the refusal, as per the Applicable BCR's List of Commissions.

BCR will treat the data requests sent through the services supplied by a Accounts Information Services Provider without any discrimination in relation with the requests sent by the Client, only if the Accounts Information Services Provider identifies itself to BCR and acts in compliance with the enforceable legal provisions applicable every time there is a data request regarding the Account, with the exception of the case where there are clear reasons for refusal.

The bank can refuse the access of a Information Services Provider regarding the Accounts or of a Services provider responsible for payment initiation for a current account accessible online where there are reasons objectively justified and supported by conclusive proofs regarding the unauthorized access or fraudulent of the current account accessible online by the Information Services Provider regarding the accounts, including the unauthorized or fraudulent initiation of a payment instruction by the Service Provider responsible for the Payment Initiation.

In the case mentioned above, the Bank will communicate to the Client the fact that the access of the Information Service provider regarding the Accounts or of the Service Provider responsible for payment initiation has been rejected and the reasons of the refusal, with the exception of the case in which the communication is obstructed by justified reasons or if the legal provisions forbid it. The communication will be sent immediately after access refusal.

The Bank can refuse to issue the confirmation regarding the availability of the funds requested by a Payment Instruments Issuing based on Cards Provider, if the Client does not give his/her explicit consent to answer the confirmation requests coming from that particular Payment Instruments Issuing based on cards Provider or if the latter does not identifies itself and /or does not communicate with the Bank using security measures, in compliance with the technical regulation standards and the enforceable delegated acts issued by the European Commission.

3. Subject to legal provisions, to perform investigations in connection with the information filled-in in the account opening/ card issuance/purchase of banking services documentation, under the law conditions.

4. To reject the performance of transactions initiated by the Client in case the Client does not deliver to the Bank, upon request thereof, the additional information or documents.
5. To refuse the performance of any instructions if such violate its internal policies/ procedures, including but not limited to internal or group procedures as well as the international standards which the Bank applies, the law or an order issued by a relevant authority, the Bank being exonerated from any liability with respect to any damages incurred by the Client in this respect.
6. To refuse the processing of documents presented for payment if such documents do not comply with the terms set out in the applicable legal provisions or have not been duly filled in with the account codes in IBAN structure, either with respect to the payer or with respect to the beneficiary or in case of debit instruments presenting alterations or filling in defects.
7. To request the Client to deliver the documents evidencing the purpose of the banking services which shall be carried out via the Bank and to suspend the performance of any transactions on the Client's account, starting with the date of such request until the receipt of the relevant documents from the Client. If the Client fails to deliver the information or in case it is ascertained later that the information delivered does not correspond to the de facto status, the Bank shall be entitled to reconsider its relationship with the Client, including by means of closing the accounts thereof.
8. To request in writing any information with respect to the Client or the Account attorneys-in-fact/Users, in case the Bank misses information or when the Banks appreciates that the information held with respect to the persons above mentioned are not up-to-date, complete, correct or are contradicting themselves.
9. To consider any payment made to its benefit, from the date of registration of the amount in the respective account.

The Bank shall not be liable if a request for the authorisation of a transaction is refused or if a banking card is not accepted for payment, as a result of any event which is beyond the Bank's control.

10. To amend the interest applicable to the funds available on the account, as well as the commissions and fees applicable to the transactions carried out on the account of the Client and to inform the Client of such changes by means of posting such changes at the Banking Units or on its internet page.
11. To set-off the amounts available on any account of the Client, including the deposit accounts (even if the deposit has not reached maturity) against any banking commissions, interests or fees (including but not limited to commissions, interests and any other costs or fees deriving from crediting transactions, guarantee agreements, incasso, letters of credit, bank guarantees or any other products and/or services to which the commissions, interests or fees set out in the Applicable BCR's List of Commissions in force at that time apply), as well as against any due or overdue credit instalments or any other Client's debt owed to the Bank, without any prior notice, in case the amounts available in the account mentioned in the Contractual Application Form of the Bank signed by the Client are not sufficient to cover such expenditures. The set-off right refers also to the recovering of the amounts due to the Bank for automatically closed products or for the fees due until the effective closing day of the account, unpaid by the Client, if the Client requests to the Bank to open of a new product or service; in this respect the Client empowering the Bank including to perform the exchange necessary in case of the account containing available amounts for the recovering of the due receivables is in another currency than the one of the due amount.

Notwithstanding the conventional set-off which may be operated between the parties in accordance with this paragraph 11, the Client hereby empowers the Bank to carry out such set-off by means of debiting the accounts mentioned above in accordance with the terms set out in the immediately preceding paragraph.

In case of deposit accounts which have not reached maturity, the amounts outstanding after the payment of the Client's debts to the Bank shall be transferred to a current account used for the creation of the deposit and shall bear an interest rate applicable to the current account.

In case between the Bank and the Client there are several legal relationships or more accounts under the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank, the parties expressly agree that the legal relations between the Bank and the Client will not operate the mutual set-off between active and passive balances, except as provided above or to the extent that the Bank gives its prior written consent in respect to a particular set-off operation.

12. To perform transactions with or on the Client's account without the latter's approval, in the following instances:
 - a) payments from current accounts or from any other accounts of the Client, based on a final and enforceable court or arbitral ruling or on other writs of execution set out by the law;
 - b) due payments owed to the Bank and/or any other prior commitments to the Bank;
 - c) cancellation of any transactions erroneously performed by the Bank, including the interests and commissions applicable to the cancelled amounts, as well as of those performed under the remark „subject to” (accompanied by justifying documents attached to the account statement);
 - d) blocking of amounts in collateral deposits, in accordance with the contracts concluded based on the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank;
 - e) if the Bank ascertains that it has not received in the correspondent account the funds related to a payment order which has been already credited to the beneficiary's account. For the purpose of performing such transaction, the Bank is authorised to carry out transactions with the Client's available funds on the interbank market by means of placing buying/ selling orders.
13. Not to comply with the annulment request for a foreign exchange banking transaction or for a Financial Transaction if the initial transaction was carried out based on a negotiation agreed with the Client through telephone conversation recorded by the Bank, through the electronic platform or based on the Client's written instruction or in any other modality agreed with the Bank. If there are insufficient available funds and the foreign exchange banking transaction or the Financial Transaction cannot be settled, the bank has the right to close the position through a similar reverse transaction and the Client will bear a potential negative difference between the FX rates and/ or quotations.
14. To cancel a foreign exchange banking transaction or a Financial Transaction in case of evidence that the respective transaction was performed using an erroneous quotation, irrespective of the cause/causes that may have generated such error (except for the cases when the Bank generated the error following a grave misconduct or intentionally), including to settle the amount resulting from the annulment operation of the respective foreign exchange banking transaction or Financial Transaction.

The Client is entirely responsible for the risk associated to closing foreign exchange banking transaction or Financial Transactions, through recorded telephone conversations, especially due to the lack of an authorisation of the sender, abusive use of telephone connections, as well as transmission errors or erroneous orders; through this document, the Client expressly undertakes the risk of communication or transmission in accordance with the provisions of the Civil Code, except for the case when the Bank caused such damages following a grave misconduct or intentionally. The closing of a banking transaction and/ or Financial Transaction, through recorded telephone conversations, if its terms have been bilaterally accepted, is deemed to be made with the Client if the Client communicates by telephone, even if the operation was initiated by another person than the Client or by the person authorised by the Client, in such situation the Client accepting that the Bank does not bear any obligation or liability.

15. Not to engage own funds in any transactions initiated by the Client, being exonerated from any consequences arising as a result of failure to perform transactions due to lack of available funds in the Client's account.
16. To send to the CIP, Banking Risks Center and to the Credit Bureau any information related to risk, as well as information related to credit products, fraudulent activity and information related to the inconsistencies in the documents/statements registered in the name of the Client and/or of its representatives for the purpose of processing or review whenever necessary.
17. Take all measures necessary or useful to preserve its rights arising out of or in connection with the Contractual Documentation.
18. To decide, unilaterally and without notifying the Client, as regards the charging of lower fees than those agreed through the Contractual Documentation, with the possibility of deciding again, subsequently, under the same terms, to go back to the fees set in the Contractual Documentation.
19. The bank shall take the necessary steps in order to credit the amounts received in foreign currency pertaining to the collections with incorrect/incomplete details (including the trans-border payment orders made in LEI), by conducting investigations with the external banks charging commissions according to the Applicable BCR's List of Commissions.
20. To transmit to the competent authorities data and information regarding the identity of the Client, account balances and transactions operated on its accounts when their transmission is related to a legal obligation.

D. BANK'S OBLIGATIONS

1. To perform banking transactions related to the Client's account as instructed by the Account attorneys-in-fact in writing or by other means agreed between the Bank and the Client, but in any event within the limit of the funds available on the account and in compliance with the internal working rules and the international and domestic banking regulations and practice.
2. To calculate and to apply monthly/periodically the interest rate to funds available on the account (including the deposit accounts). The calculation of the interest rate is based on a 360 days year and in accordance with the calculation formula $365 \frac{(366)}{360}$, except for the accounts denominated in GBP in which case the interest rate calculation formula is $365 \frac{(366)}{365}$ (366).

3. To perform payment orders, in compliance with the legal provisions in force, based on the internal COT established by the Bank for each type of transaction, as posted on the Bank's internet page.

E. LIMITATION OF BANK'S LIABILITY

1. The Bank shall not be liable for any loss incurred as a result of delays or errors caused by third parties (agent banks, agents, notaries etc.) in carrying out the Bank's instructions on the account/ based on the order of the Client.
2. The Bank shall not be liable for the foreign currency or for any loss arisen from for foreign exchange transactions carried out in the origin state of the correspondent bank which performs such transactions, which are subject to the principle of locus regit actum.
3. In case of major payment incidents which are qualified as criminal offence in accordance with the legal provisions in force or if the Bank does not have certain information with respect to the issuer of the debit payment instrument, the Bank shall proceed in accordance with such legal provisions, informing the criminal investigation bodies of such facts.
4. The Bank shall not be liable for any proceeds collection in/from abroad in the following cases:
 - a) suspension or moratorium of payments or sequestration of the funds by the foreign collection agent, by third parties related to the collection agent or by the authorities of the state where the collection agent is located;
 - b) if the beneficiary refuses to collect the proceeds;
 - c) lack of the information necessary to carry out the transaction, including those related to the payer.
5. The Bank shall not be liable for any damages incurred as a result of any delay in delivery and/or loss of documents or of any other correspondence addressed to or delivered by the Bank, including account statements, or as a result of any deterioration or other errors occurred during the transportation/delivery thereof.
6. The Bank will not be held responsible for any additional expense on the account of the Client as a result of the assignment of this Agreement or any rights resulting thereof, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 6. Final provisions, Section C. Assignment below.
7. The Bank shall not take any responsibility regarding the cash amounts deposited by third parties, either legal entites or individuals, into Client's account.
8. The Bank shall not take any responsibility regarding the consequences for not processing any instructions received from the Client in case it does not comply with the law (i.e: in case the Client sends to the Bank any requests or any other documents signed with electronical signature which is not qualified, valid according to the applicable law, etc).

F. LIMITATION OF HARDSHIP EFFECTS

1. Client understands and accepts the possibility that, in case of occurrence of exceptional changes in the circumstances that underpinned the implementation by the Bank of the Application Forms of the Bank signed by the Client, beyond the Bank's will, the performance of its obligations in compliance with the Contractual Documentation may become onerous because of the increased cost of their execution. In particular, anytime during the execution of a Convention it is possible to increase the amounts owed by the Client, including due to variations in the national currency exchange rate (for loans in currencies other than LEI) or in reference indicators ROBOR, EURIBOR or LIBOR or the interest rate, if the case.

2. In consideration of the provisions included in para 1 above and pursuant to Article 1271 paragraph (3) letter (c) in the Civil Code, the Client agrees to undertake the risk of the occurrence of such circumstances, being bound to fulfil its obligations undertaken within the contractual business relationship concluded with the Bank and governed by these GBTC and, if the case, the Contractual Documentation, independently from such exceptional changes in the circumstances which led to their conclusion.
3. By undertaking these risks, the Client understands and accepts the fact that it shall not require a court of law to adjust any contract concluded based on the Contractual Application Form of the Bank or the Contractual Documentation in general in case exceptional circumstances such as those listed in Clause 1 from this section F Limitation of hardship effects occur.

G. ASPECTS ON CONTRACTS, REQUESTS, INSTRUCTIONS PROVIDED TO THE BANK

1. Each power of attorney, authorization or instruction having the nature of a mandate granted by the Client to the Bank by means of or in connection with the Contractual Documentation is deemed to be granted for the entire period of the contractual relationship between the Bank and the Client. The provisions of Art. 2015 in the Civil Code are not applicable to any such power of attorney, authorization or instruction.
2. The Bank may execute any power of attorney, authorization, instruction having the nature of a mandate granted by the Client, either personally or by other persons elected by the Bank at its sole discretion.
3. Until the fulfilment of the term for which these are granted or until the termination of the contractual business relationship between the Client and the Bank or, if applicable, of the contracts concluded based on the Application Forms of the Bank, each power of attorney, authorization, instruction having the nature of a mandate granted by the Client to the Bank by means of or related to the Contractual Documentation are deemed irrevocable, unless the parties expressly agree in writing, the possibility of withdrawing.
4. After a business relationship between the Client and the Bank is initiated by the execution by the Client of a Contractual Application Form of the Bank dedicated to the initiation of the contractual relationship and acquisition of the banking products and services, in all the documents, which according to these GBTC represent the Contractual Documentation, the Client can be identified by name, CIC and UIE, and the Client undertakes to inform the Account attorneys-in-fact or/and its other representatives about this aspect.
5. However, after a business relationship between the Client and the Bank is initiated by the execution by the Client of a Contractual Application Form of the Bank dedicated to the initiation of the contractual relationship and acquisition of the banking products and services, the Client may contract any banking service and/or product out of the Bank's offer, related to the current accounts, transitional accounts, sub-accounts or bank deposits or to carry out any addition or/and amendment regarding such contracted services and products, by the execution and submission to the Bank of Contractual Application Forms of the Bank, containing corresponding requests. Except the cases explicitly mentioned within the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank, the contracting of the banking services or products or amending or/and adding to such shall be accepted by the Bank by simple implementation of the relevant requests (i.e. by rendering the service or delivering the product to the Client), made known to the Client through the account statements or other documents which the Bank usually issues according to the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank and these GBTC or through the use of the service or product by the Client, not being necessary for Bank's representatives to sign the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank presented by the Client. If the Bank decides to deny the Client's request, it shall inform the Client in this respect, without being mandatory for the Bank to justify that decision.

Chapter 4. KNOW YOUR CLIENT, PREVENTION OF MONEY LAUNDERING

1. Upon the commencement of a relationship between the Client and the Bank, upon the opening of the accounts or provision of services as well as for the purpose of determining the background and the purpose of the transactions, apart from the evidencing data, information and documents requested in accordance with the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank regarding the account opening/GBTC the Bank's internal regulations and legal provisions in force, the Bank may also request additional documents to verify the identity of the Client and of the Account attorneys-in-fact/Users, the substantiation of the transaction initiated by such persons and/or the identification of the real beneficiaries of such transactions.
2. The Bank shall be entitled to refuse, in accordance with the GBTC and the legal requirements, the performance of the transactions initiated by the Client or to terminate the contractual relationship with the Client if the Client delivers incomplete, insufficient information or in case of false statements procured from the Client or if it has suspicions with respect to the conformity of the statements or documents delivered by the Client including in case such persons present to the Bank payment instruments which may be deemed as potentially fraudulent, which may trigger payment risks and furthermore including such instruments which may adversely affect the closing of the settlement, such being subject to penalties in accordance with the applicable law.

Chapter 5. CONFIDENTIALITY

1. The Bank and the Client undertake to comply with the confidentiality obligations related to information regarding accounts and to transactions performed on such accounts unless otherwise set out by the law or unless the Client has expressed its consent for disclosure of such information.
2. By accepting these GBTC, the Client confirms and agrees that he is solely responsible for the acts and / or deeds of the delegates and the persons empowered according to the Contractual Documents, including without limitation liability for the consequences of the disclosure of the acts/ the bank secrecy must be respected.
3. The Client hereby expressly consents to the disclosure by the Bank of the banking secrecy information (including personal data of the concerned persons and of data subjects as under Chapter II. Opening, performance of transactions and closing of accounts, Section B. Personal Data protection) to the entities which are members of BCR Group, as well as to any other partners of the Bank and of members entities of BCR Group for the purpose of promoting and sale of its products and services. Also, the Bank shall be able to send and / or transfer information falling under the banking secrecy to any entity which at the date of using the data and / or information falling under banking secrecy, are / will be part of BCR Group and to their contractual partners, including the Bank's contractual partners, for design, development, testing, use of new IT systems, IT services (including store databases in the country or abroad), as well as for risk management and portfolio management purposes, within the purpose of the Bank related to banking supervision over Bank's activity, intra-group reporting and/or to Supervision authorities, for the purpose of complying with the local and European prudential requirements legislation applicable to credit institutions and also for the portfolio management and risk management (including but not limited to identifying the group of connected clients within the level of parent –company of the Bank) as well as with the purpose of keeping / storing (prior to archiving) and archiving according to the legal provisions of the Contractual Documentation (including ensuring the operations related to these activities).

Chapter 6. FINAL PROVISIONS

A. TERMINATION OF THE BUSINESS RELATIONSHIP

1. GBTC shall be applicable for an unlimited period of time, throughout the contractual business relationship between the Bank and the Client.
2. The business relationship and the one related to any banking product or service may be terminated:

d) the Client's representatives shall visit the Bank's premises which are near to the Client's headquarter or which are mentioned by the Bank, in order to:

(i) perform all the actions necessary for transferring to another credit institution or/and withdrawing, within legal limits, the amounts possibly available on the bank accounts under closing procedure;

(ii) return to the Bank all the unused debiting payment instruments (ceques, notes of exchange and promissory notes) and/or cards and token devices held by the Client, in connection with the bank accounts under closing procedure.

4. The Client's obligations regarding the bank accounts under closing procedure, as well as those regarding services and products offered by the Bank and contracted by the Client, but not totally performed, shall remain effective and shall be performed by the Client according to undertaken commitments (including returning any payment instruments/devices, ex.: token devices, cards, etc, and, respectively, full repayment of any amount due to the Bank and unpaid by and in the name of the Client including those previous existing or after the closing of the account or cessation of the contractual relationship with the Bank), the Bank having the right to request and obtain the execution of such according to the applicable law.
5. In case the Bank receives for payment a debiting payment instrument related to a closed payment account, such a transaction shall be refused by the Bank based on a reason that is not to be reported to the la Central Register of Payment Incidents, and after the closing of the bank current accounts, the bank cards related to them cannot be used, being blocked by the Bank.
6. The Client may request the repayment of the amounts possibly existing on the current bank accounts on the date of closing, within the term of 5 (five) years calculated from the date of closing of the respective accounts.

B. CLIENT- BANK COMMUNICATION

1. Any communication addressed to the Bank by the Client shall be effected by means of registered mail bearing acknowledgement of receipt or by any other means accepted by the Bank, as agreed on a case by case basis in the Contractual Application Forms of the Bank. Any mail addressed to the Client by the Bank will be performed by any channel (mail, courier, fax, SMS, email) specified through the Bank's Contratual Forms, through the Client's mailbox in connection with Internet Banking, Phone Banking and Multicash service or any other means of communication which ensure the proof of communication towards the Client.
2. Any documents drawn in foreign languages shall be presented to the Bank accompanied by a notarised translation thereof in Romanian language.
3. The documents signed electronically will bear qualified electronical signature according to the applicable law.
4. The delivery of any communication by the Bank to the Client shall be deemed effected if the Bank possesses the proof of transmission by the Client's mailbox in connection with Internet Banking, Phone

Banking and Multicash service, fax, SMS, email or a copy of the communication signed by the Client or if that respective communication is evidenced in a delivery document signed by the postal office or by the companies carrying out courier or registered mail services.

5. The Client and the Bank expressly accept that the documents concluded or made on a paper basis and/or electronically and/or within phone conversations registered by the specialized Bank's system, in connection with these GBTC and with the intention to conclude the Contractual Documents and/or in connection with the concluded Contractual Documentation which are transmitted to the other Party by fax or e-mail at the addresses mentioned in the Contractual Documentation have the same probative force equivalent to the probative force of the original.

The Client expressly accepts that he will not contest the transmission of documents/ requests/ instructions if they have been received by the Bank through the communication channels approved in accordance with Chapter 6, letter B CUSTOMER-BANK COMMUNICATION paragraph 1 and/ or from the delegates, respectively the persons empowered by the Contractual Documentation.

For the avoidance of doubt, this clause is a convention on evidence in accordance with Article 256 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

6. The communication, paper based and electronic, delivered by the Bank to the Client is considered to be accurately addressed if it has been sent to the address specified by the Client to the Bank.
7. If the notification clauses included in other sections of GBTC state otherwise than as set out in this Chapter 6. Final provisions, Section B. Client-Bank Communication, such special clauses shall apply with priority but in any case only with respect to the section to which such clauses refer.
8. The Client undertakes to take all necessary measures to ensure the confidentiality of the information transmitted (including by e-mail) until the moment when it comes into the possession of the Bank; The Client expressly understands and accepts that the Bank is exonerated from any liability in the event of situations of external fraud on the communication channels between the Bank and the Client (for example, but not limited to: loss of access credentials by the Client to the e-mail address/ fraudulent access to the Client's e-mail box, any other cyber or other attack on e-mail etc.).

C. ASSIGNMENT

1. The Client shall not assign its rights and obligations resulted from the contractual business relationship concluded with the Bank and governed by these GBTC, as well as its rights and obligations according to the Contractual Documentation in general, in the absence of a prior written consent byof the Bank.

The Bank, at its free will and at any time during the existence of the contractual business relationship between the Client and the Bank, governed by these GBTC, as well as of the specific contracts governed by the Contractual Documentation, may assign to a third party elected at its sole discretion, any of its rights in the respective contracts, as well as such contracts entirety, together with any related guarantees, and the Client, by accepting these GBTC, unconditionally consents to any such assignment.

2. The assignment will become effective and binding upon the Client from receipt of a notice from the Bank with respect to the transfer of rights arising from the contractual business relationship between the Client and the Bank, governed by these GBTC, as well as of the specific contracts governed by the Contractual Documentation entirely.

3. The Client understands and agrees that, in case of assignment in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter 6. Final provisions, Section C. Assignments, the Bank will be released exempted from its obligations correlative to the rights so transferred or, as appropriate, any and all of its obligations under the contracts governed by the Contractual Documentation, starting with the moment when the assignment becomes effective.

D. FORCE MAJEURE. FORTUITOUS CASE

1. With respect to any payment obligation resulting on its account or in connection with the Contractual Documentation, the Client shall not be released of its contractual liability given the occurrence of a fortuitous case or of a force majeure event, except for the objective impossibility to perform that payment obligation as a result of an event of force majeure or a fortuitous case that causes the interruption of the operation of the interbank payment system. A release of contractual liability only applies for as long as the interbank payment system interruption is not remedied.
2. Except for the situation provided in item 1 above, The Bank and the Client are not liable for any loss triggered by distressed operations caused by force majeure or fortuitous case.
3. The terms mentioned with capital letters and which are not defined in the section above will have the meaning as stated in the Annex 1 of the General Business Terms and Conditions for legal entities and self-employed individuals.

2. Specific Card usage conditions

2.1. Based on the Contractual Application Form of the Bank regarding the issuance of Card or changing its characteristics signed by the Holder, the Bank will issue the Card, at the Holder's request, provided that the latter presents any other additional documents requested by the Bank. The Bank reserves its right to reject a Card request, without any justification.

2.2. The Card validity period is printed on its surface, and may be extended automatically. If the Holder/ User does not request the termination of the Card with at least 30 days before its expiry date, the Bank will issue another valid card. The card's expiry date is the last day of the month in which the card expires. The Holder/ User has the right to refuse the new Card issued according to this paragraph, but shall still have to pay the Card issuance fee.

2.3. The Card is the property of the Bank and has to be immediately returned upon its request, according to the terms of the Contractual Application Form of the Bank regarding the issuance of Card or changing its characteristics and to these TCUCB.

2.4. The Card is not transmissible. It may only be used by the User on whose name it was issued and based on the conditions specified in the Card Application-Contract, these TCUCB and applicable legislation.

2.5. The Card is inactive when issued and is delivered in a sealed envelope and will be activated by the User after the the first PIN-based Transaction.

2.6. The Bank may block temporarily/permanently any Card at the Client/Holder request, without the notification or consent of the User.

2.7. For payment of goods/ services, in order to finalize the Transaction ordered by the User, this must first Authorize the payment.

2.8. The Holder and the User agree that the electronic records of the Bank are the only proof that are enforceable after expressing the consent, according to the above, and assume responsibility for the Transactions in the event when third parties use the Card for that purpose, with or without their consent.

2.9. For CNP Transactions (Card Not Present) (internet, etc) the Client/User can be requested by the merchant to provide certain codes (eg CVV2/CVC2), static password, 3D Secure password). For this type of transactions, PIN code is not to be used.

2.10. In case the Holder/ User performs authorization-free Transactions (offline) and/or internet Transactions at merchants not enrolled on the 3D Secure platform, the Holder/ User shall be directly responsible for performing those Transactions.

2.11. For the Transactions made on a POS, the User shall have to sign the POS released Receipt, if the signature is requested on that Receipt, only after checking up the data written on it and after asking for a copy of the Receipt.

2.12. The Card may only be used within the available balance and in accordance with the Transaction limits for the Card. The total value of the Transactions, including the related fees, may not exceed the available balance.

2.13. Transactions are performed online, meaning in real time, and the value of the Transaction is blocked in the current account/ credit card account at the moment when performed. The amount blocked at the moment when the Transaction is authorised in the external acceptance networks has a maximum settlement term of 30 days, according to the term established by the Visa and Mastercard international organisations.

2.14. The Bank has the right to list the Card in the "List of Cards banned for acceptance" in case it is reported by the Holder/ User as lost or stolen. The Card block is permanent and irrevocable, and the Card may no longer be used.

2.15. Currency of settlements between Bank and Visa/Mastercard

2.15.1 The Transactions performed in Romania (in Lei):

- (a) the Accounts in Lei will be debited from the current account/ credit card account with the value of the performed operations;
- (b) the Accounts in foreign currency from the current account/ credit card account will be debited in the relevant currency as follows:
 - (i) if the Transaction is done through a BCR POS/ATM, the exchange currency rate is the NBR currency exchange rate from the BCR's settlement date of the Transaction plus the foreign exchange fee; and
 - (ii) if the Transaction is done through other Romanian bank's POS/ATM, the exchange currency rate is the one mentioned at para 2.15.2 below.

2.15.2. The international Transactions are registered in the current account/ credit card account in the currency of that Account as follows:

- (a) For Visa/ Visa Electron cards, if the original currency of the Transaction is different from the account's currency, Visa will convert the Transaction's amount into the account currency based on Visa's Reference Exchange Rate established on the Working Day that preceded the day when the Transaction with BCR was disbursed, plus the foreign exchange commission; and
- (b) for Cards issued under Mastercard/ Maestro logo, if the account currency is different from the currency of disbursement with MasterCard (EUR and/or USD), the value of Transactions that are settled and disbursed by MasterCard and the associated fees will be converted in the currency of that Account using the NBR exchange currency rate established on the Transaction processing date, plus the exchange currency fee. If the original currency of the Transaction is different from the Visa/ Mastercard disbursement currency (EUR or USD), as applicable, MasterCard will convert the value of the original Transaction into the disbursement based on the Mastercard's exchange currency rate.

2.16. The Bank has the right to ask the Holder/ User to show a copy of the Receipt, as well as any other documents deemed necessary to solve the complaints of the Holder/ User regarding the wrong registration of some operations in their Statement of Account.

2.17. The Holder/ User has the right to challenge in writing the possible Transactions that they do not recognize, within 30 calendar days since the date when the Transaction was registered in the current account/ credit card account. To this end, the Bank makes available to the Holder a Statement of Account. The fact that no communication has been sent within the due term will be interpreted as the Holder's acceptance of Transaction and the Statement of Account.

2.18. Transactions may be challenged in writing in any branch of the Bank, during work hours, and will proceed as follows:

- a) for the Transactions that are challenged after the expiration of 30 calendar days since the date when the Transaction has been registered in the Account, but not more than 90 calendar days since this date, the Bank will attempt to solve the challenges subject to the reservation that the Accepting Bank may refuse it immediately on the grounds that the term indicated by International Cards Organisations was exceeded;
- b) the challenges addressed to the Bank in writing will be analyzed and investigated by BCR. Within maximum 50 calendar days since the challenge receipt date, the Bank will inform the Holder about its the status of the resolution process. The final results of the investigations will be communicated to the Holder if the challenge proves to be ungrounded. The Holder will pay a fee for challenging a Transaction without justification;
- c) the Bank will credit the Holder's Account within one Working Day with the value of the disputed Transactions only after the finalization of the procedures provided by the legislation in force regarding the challenged transactions and only if the challenge was resolved in favor of the Holder.

2.19. In case the PIN code is wrongly typed three times in a row, the Card will be automatically blocked; to unblock the Card, the User must urgently inform the Bank and request to have the Card unblocked.

3. Rights and obligations of the Bank:

3.1. Bank's rights

3.1.1. To make investigations regarding the data filled in the Contractual Application Form of the Bank regarding the issuance of the Card or changing its characteristics according to applicable legal provisions;
